

For Immediate Release:

Press Release From: Arizona Horseman's Challenge & Expo

Darcy Cochrane 928-300-3360

The Arizona Horseman's Challenge & Expo that will take place May 11th, 12th and 13th 2018, at Horseshoe Park & Equestrian Centre in Queen Creek will be dedicating one of the event's five arenas to Ride with the Experts Participation Clinics. The event, formerly the Verde Valley Equine Festival, has always offered some riding participation clinics, but having moved the event to a larger facility, now is able to offer even more education and clinics. This is an opportunity for you to bring your own horse and ride with an expert in a small clinic setting, receiving one on one help and instruction time. This year Lanny Leach will be offering two different Participation Clinics; Problem Solving- Horse & Rider and The Purpose of Riding with Your Legs. Samantha Jepson will instruct her clinic - Riding Engaged. Thomas Clover will be offering- Fundamental Body Control. Buddy Uldrikson will be teaching -Horsemanship for Barrel Racing. Greg Robinson will offer two different Participation Clinics; Great Horsemanship Made Easy and Training for Ultimate Versatility. As an added bonus, Eric Lynn will teach- Communicating with Your Donkey. These trainers are attending the AzHC & Expo from all over the country to be on hand to impart their wisdom and training methods. For more information and to sign up to ride with an expert, go to www.azhcexpo.com